

RCCG OCEANIA

Stewardship

Kingdom Purpose for Wealth Management

At a Glance

BIG IDEA

Wealth is not a personal possession but a resource entrusted by the king for kingdom purposes. By aligning our understanding of wealth with kingdom principles, we can manage resources effectively and fulfill our divine purpose. This study explores how biblical teachings guide us in viewing and handling wealth as stewards of the kingdom.

PRIMARY PASSAGES

Deuteronomy 7:8

Matthew 25

Genesis 1:26

Luke 16:11

Key Takeaways

- Wealth is owned by the king and entrusted to us for kingdom purposes.
- Our management of resources reflects our trustworthiness and readiness for greater responsibilities.
- Purpose-driven wealth attracts prosperity necessary for fulfilling divine purposes.
- Mismanagement of resources can lead to their loss.
- Adopting a kingdom mindset is essential for effective wealth management.

Introduction

The concept of wealth in the kingdom of God challenges the conventional view of personal ownership. This study delves into how wealth is seen as a resource entrusted by God, the king, to fulfill His purposes. By understanding and applying kingdom principles, we can manage resources effectively and align with our divine purpose.

Scripture Reading

- Deuteronomy 7-8 — These chapters emphasize that God empowers us to gain wealth to fulfill His covenant.
- Matthew 25 — This passage uses parables to illustrate the kingdom of heaven and the importance of faithful stewardship.
- Genesis 1:26 — This verse introduces the concept of dominion, foundational to understanding kingdom principles.
- Luke 16:11 — This verse links trustworthiness in handling worldly wealth to receiving true riches.

Key Points

1. Recognize Kingdom Ownership – In the kingdom of God, all wealth belongs to the king. Our role is to manage these resources according to the king's purposes. This understanding shifts our perspective from ownership to stewardship, where we are caretakers of what God has entrusted to us. Recognizing God's ownership helps us align our financial decisions with His will, ensuring that our actions contribute to His kingdom.

- Reflect on how you view your possessions: as personal property or as resources entrusted by God.
- Pray for guidance from the Holy Spirit in managing resources according to kingdom principles.
- Identify areas in your life where you can better align your financial decisions with God's purposes.

Scripture: Deuteronomy 7:8 Genesis 1:26

2. Purpose-Driven Resource Management – Wealth should be used to fulfill divine purposes, not for personal gain. When resources are managed with a focus on God's kingdom, it attracts the prosperity needed to accomplish those purposes. This requires a shift from self-centered financial goals to a broader vision of contributing to God's work on earth.

- Evaluate your financial goals and ensure they align with kingdom purposes.
- Consider how your resources can support ministries or charitable causes that advance God's kingdom.
- Seek wisdom in balancing personal needs with kingdom-focused giving.

Scripture: Matthew 25

3. Trustworthiness and Accountability – Handling wealth responsibly is a test of our trustworthiness, preparing us for greater responsibilities in the kingdom. The way we manage what we have reflects our readiness to handle more significant tasks. Trustworthiness in small matters leads to greater opportunities to serve and impact the kingdom.

- Assess your current financial management practices for areas of improvement.
- Commit to transparency and accountability in your financial dealings.
- Encourage others to practice responsible stewardship by sharing your journey.

Scripture: Luke 16:11

Key Points (cont.)

4. Avoid Personal Ownership Mentality — Thinking we own resources leads to a pursuit of material wealth, contrary to kingdom principles. This mentality can result in a focus on accumulation rather than distribution, which is not aligned with the values of God's kingdom. By shifting our mindset to that of a steward, we can avoid the pitfalls of materialism and embrace a life of generosity.
- Challenge yourself to view wealth as a tool for service rather than a measure of success.
 - Practice gratitude for what you have, recognizing it as a gift from God.
 - Engage in regular acts of generosity to reinforce a stewardship mindset.

Group Discussion

Tip: Use these questions to guide the group from seeing → understanding → applying.

Observation

- What does Deuteronomy 7-8 reveal about God's purpose for wealth?
- How do the parables in Matthew 25 illustrate the concept of stewardship?
- What is the significance of dominion as introduced in Genesis 1:26?
- How does Luke 16:11 relate trustworthiness to handling wealth?

Interpretation

- Why is it important to recognize God's ownership of all wealth?
- How can aligning our financial goals with kingdom purposes change our approach to wealth?
- What does it mean to be trustworthy with resources, and how does it prepare us for greater responsibilities?
- In what ways does a personal ownership mentality conflict with kingdom principles?

Application

- How can you apply the principle of kingdom ownership in your daily financial decisions?
- What steps can you take to ensure your resource management is purpose-driven?
- How can you demonstrate trustworthiness in your current financial situation?
- What practical changes can you make to avoid a personal ownership mentality?

Prayer Focus

- Seek guidance in managing resources according to kingdom principles.
- Pray for a shift from ownership to stewardship mindset.
- Ask for wisdom in aligning financial goals with divine purposes.

Next Step

Reflect on your current financial practices and identify ways to align them with kingdom stewardship principles.

Conclusion

Understanding wealth from a kingdom perspective transforms our approach to managing resources. By recognizing God's ownership, aligning with divine purposes, and demonstrating trustworthiness, we fulfill our role as stewards in His kingdom. This study encourages us to adopt a mindset that prioritizes kingdom values over personal gain, leading to a life of meaningful impact and divine fulfillment.