AT A GLANCE

BIG IDEA

In a world where relationships often falter, understanding the essential qualities for a godly partnership is crucial. This study explores the virtues of honesty, teachability, vision, and physical attractiveness, emphasizing the need for spiritual rebirth and responsible leadership. Discover how these elements can transform your relationships into reflections of divine love and purpose.

PRIMARY PASSAGES

Ephesians 5:14

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- A godly relationship requires spiritual rebirth and commitment.
- Honesty and sincerity are foundational to trust and integrity.
- Submission is a strength that involves controlled power.
- Physical attractiveness and personal responsibility are important.
- Visionary leadership is crucial for guiding relationships.

INTRODUCTION

---

Building a godly relationship requires specific virtues and a commitment to spiritual growth. This study will delve into the qualities necessary for such a partnership, focusing on spiritual rebirth, honesty, submission, physical attractiveness, and visionary leadership.

SCRIPTURE READING

- Ephesians 5:14 — Encourages individuals to awaken to the realities of life and relationships, urging them to live responsibly.

KEY POINTS

1. SPIRITUAL REBIRTH — For a relationship to be truly godly, it must be rooted in spiritual renewal. This involves a transformation that aligns one's life with divine principles. Jesus Christ emphasized the necessity of being 'born again' to enter the kingdom of God, which applies to our relationships as well. Spiritual rebirth brings a new perspective and purpose, allowing individuals to engage in partnerships that reflect God's love.

- Reflect on your spiritual journey and identify areas needing renewal.
- Pray for guidance from the Holy Spirit in your relationships.
- Seek fellowship with others who encourage spiritual growth.

Scripture: John 3:3      2 Corinthians 5:17

2. HONESTY AND SINCERITY — Honesty and sincerity are the cornerstones of any meaningful relationship. Without these, trust cannot be established, and authenticity is compromised. A godly relationship thrives on transparency and truthfulness, which foster a deep and lasting connection. These virtues ensure that both partners can rely on each other and build a foundation of integrity.

- Commit to open and honest communication with your partner.
- Examine your motives to ensure they align with sincerity.
- Practice active listening to understand your partner's perspective.

Scripture: Proverbs 12:22 Ephesians 4:25

3. SUBMISSION AS STRENGTH — Submission in a relationship is often misunderstood as weakness, but it is actually a demonstration of controlled strength. It involves willingly placing one's strength under the guidance of another for the greater good of the partnership. This mutual submission, as taught by Jesus Christ, leads to a balanced and harmonious relationship where both partners support and uplift each other.

- Identify areas where you can practice mutual submission in your relationship.
- Discuss with your partner how you can support each other's strengths.
- Pray for humility and strength to submit where necessary.

Scripture: Ephesians 5:21 Philippians 2:3-4

4. PHYSICAL ATTRACTIVENESS — While inner qualities are paramount, maintaining physical attractiveness and personal hygiene is also important in a relationship. It reflects respect for oneself and one's partner. Taking care of one's appearance is a way to honor the body as a temple of the Holy Spirit and to show appreciation for the partner's presence in one's life.

- Develop a personal care routine that honors your body.
- Encourage your partner to join you in activities that promote health and wellness.
- Express appreciation for your partner's efforts in maintaining their appearance.

Scripture: 1 Corinthians 6:19-20

Song of Solomon 4:7

5. VISIONARY LEADERSHIP — A godly relationship requires visionary leadership, where one or both partners have a clear vision for the future. This involves setting goals and taking responsibility for guiding the relationship towards a shared purpose. Visionary leadership is about being proactive and intentional, ensuring that the relationship aligns with God's plan and brings glory to Him.

- Discuss and set shared goals for your relationship.
- Pray for wisdom and guidance in leading your relationship.
- Regularly review and adjust your relationship goals as needed.

Scripture: Proverbs 29:18      Habakkuk 2:2-3
