

Stewardship

Kingdom Economics and Management

At a Glance

BIG IDEA

In the kingdom of God, management is not just a skill but a divine principle that governs growth and stewardship. Through biblical teachings, we learn that God values good management and that financial resources are attracted to those who manage well. This study explores how principles like accountability, discipline, and diligence are essential for effective management and financial stewardship.

PRIMARY PASSAGES

Genesis 2:4

Mark 7:22

Luke 12

Matthew 6

Proverbs 13:22

Key Takeaways

- Management is a foundational principle in God's kingdom.
- God values good management and will not bless poor stewardship.
- Tithing serves as a divine training program for management.
- Financial resources are drawn to effective management.
- Greed is a destructive force that undermines good management.

Introduction

In the kingdom of God, management is a divine principle that influences growth and stewardship. This study delves into how effective management, rooted in biblical teachings, attracts financial resources and aligns with God's values. By exploring key principles such as accountability, discipline, and diligence, we can better understand the role of management in kingdom economics.

Scripture Reading

- Genesis 2:4 — Illustrates God's intention for humans to manage creation.
- Mark 7:22 — Highlights greed as a destructive force against management.
- Luke 12:15 — Warns against greed and emphasizes vigilance in stewardship.
- Matthew 6:33 — Teaches about prioritizing God's kingdom over material wealth.
- Proverbs 13:22 — Emphasizes the importance of leaving a legacy through good management.

Key Points

1. The Importance of Management — Management is a critical principle in the kingdom of God, essential for growth and stewardship. ...

Key Points (cont.)

1. The Importance of Management (cont.) — Without good management, prayers for increase may go unanswered. Genesis 2:4 shows that from the beginning, God intended for humans to manage creation. This responsibility requires us to be diligent and accountable in all aspects of life.
 - Reflect on areas of your life where management can be improved.
 - Identify resources you have been given to steward effectively.
 - Pray for wisdom in managing your responsibilities.

Scripture: Genesis 2:4

Key Points (cont.)

2. God's View on Financial Stewardship — God will not bless poor management. Effective stewardship involves accountability, discipline, and diligence, attracting financial resources. Proverbs 13:22 highlights the importance of leaving a legacy through good management. Ecclesiastes 10:19 reminds us that money is a tool that requires wise handling.

- Evaluate your financial habits and identify areas for improvement.
- Set goals for financial stewardship that align with biblical principles.
- Seek counsel from wise and experienced stewards.

Scripture: Proverbs 13:22 Ecclesiastes 10:19

Key Points (cont.)

3. Tithing as Management Training — Tithing is not about giving money to God but is a divine program to train us in management, ensuring we prioritize God's kingdom. Matthew 6:33 teaches us to seek first the kingdom of God, which includes managing our resources in a way that honors Him.
- Commit to regular tithing as a practice of prioritizing God's kingdom.
 - Reflect on how tithing has impacted your view of stewardship.
 - Discuss with others how tithing can be a tool for management training.

Scripture: Matthew 6:33

Key Points (cont.)

4. Avoiding the Pitfalls of Greed — Greed is a destructive force that undermines management. Jesus warns against it, urging vigilance and proper stewardship. Mark 7:22 and Luke 12:15 caution us about the dangers of greed and the importance of being vigilant in our stewardship.
- Identify areas in your life where greed may be influencing decisions.
 - Practice gratitude to combat the temptation of greed.
 - Engage in acts of generosity to reinforce the principle of stewardship.

Scripture: Mark 7:22 Luke 12:15

Group Discussion

Tip: Use these questions to guide the group from seeing → understanding → applying.

Observation

- What does Genesis 2:4 reveal about God's intention for human management?
- How does Mark 7:22 describe the impact of greed on management?
- What warnings does Luke 12:15 provide about stewardship?
- How does Matthew 6:33 guide us in prioritizing God's kingdom over material wealth?

Interpretation

- Why is management considered a foundational principle in God's kingdom?
- How does effective financial stewardship attract resources?
- In what ways does tithing serve as a training program for management?
- What are the consequences of greed on effective management?

Application

- How can you improve management in your personal or professional life?
- What steps can you take to align your financial habits with biblical principles?
- How can tithing help you prioritize God's kingdom in your life?
- What practical actions can you take to avoid the pitfalls of greed?

Prayer Focus

- Pray for wisdom in managing resources effectively.
- Seek guidance to align financial habits with biblical principles.
- Ask for strength to resist the temptations of greed.

Next Step

Reflect on your current management practices and identify areas for improvement in alignment with biblical stewardship principles.

Conclusion

Effective management is a divine principle that governs growth and stewardship in the kingdom of God. By embracing biblical teachings on accountability, discipline, and diligence, we can attract financial resources and fulfill our responsibilities as stewards. Through practices like tithing and vigilance against greed, we align ourselves with God's values and contribute to His kingdom's advancement.