

RCCG OCEANIA

Stewardship

Abraham's Sacrificial Giving and Blessings

At a Glance

BIG IDEA

Explore how Abraham's acts of giving, from tithing to Melchizedek to the sacrifice of Isaac, illustrate the profound impact of sacrificial giving. Understand how these acts are not just historical events but timeless principles that reveal the blessings of living under God's covenant. Discover how giving, when done with the right heart, opens doors to divine favor and blessings.

PRIMARY PASSAGES

Genesis 22:1-18

Hebrews 7

Proverbs 11:24-25

Genesis 12:3

Psalm 89:34

Key Takeaways

- Abraham's tithing to Melchizedek sets a precedent for the importance of tithing.
- Sacrificial giving, as demonstrated by Abraham's willingness to sacrifice Isaac, is a gateway to divine blessings.
- God's covenant is unbreakable and assures blessings for those who give generously.
- Generosity leads to abundance, as emphasized in Proverbs.
- Giving should be motivated by love, willingness, and cheerfulness.

Introduction

Abraham's life provides a profound example of faith and obedience, particularly in the area of giving. His actions, from tithing to Melchizedek to his willingness to sacrifice Isaac, reveal the deep connection between sacrificial giving and divine blessings. This study explores these acts and the principles they establish for believers today.

Scripture Reading

- Genesis 22:1-18 — Abraham's willingness to sacrifice Isaac exemplifies ultimate commitment and trust in God's promises.
- Hebrews 7 — Melchizedek's receipt of tithes from Abraham highlights the significance of tithing in God's plan.
- Proverbs 11:24-25 — These verses underscore the principle that generosity leads to prosperity.
- Genesis 12:3 — God's promise to bless Abraham so he could be a blessing to others.
- Psalm 89:34 — Affirms the reliability and unbreakable nature of God's covenant.

Key Points

1. The Principle of Tithing — Abraham's act of tithing to Melchizedek illustrates the foundational principle of tithing as an ...

Key Points (cont.)

1. The Principle of Tithing (cont.) — acknowledgment of God's provision and a step towards receiving further blessings. Tithing is not merely a financial transaction but a spiritual act of worship and trust in God's provision. It sets a precedent for believers to honor God with their resources, recognizing Him as the source of all blessings.
 - Reflect on how you can honor God with your resources.
 - Consider setting aside a portion of your income as a tithe.
 - Pray for a heart that acknowledges God as the source of all blessings.

Scripture: Hebrews 7

Key Points (cont.)

2. Sacrificial Giving — Abraham's willingness to sacrifice Isaac demonstrates the power of sacrificial giving as a means to unlock divine favor and blessings. This act of faith was not just about giving up something valuable but about trusting God's promises even when they seemed impossible. Sacrificial giving requires a heart that prioritizes God's will above personal desires.

- Identify areas in your life where you can practice sacrificial giving.
- Trust God with the outcomes of your sacrifices.
- Seek God's guidance in making decisions that require sacrifice.

Scripture: Genesis 22:1-18

Key Points (cont.)

3. The Covenant of Blessing — God's covenant with Abraham assures that those who give generously will be blessed, reinforcing the idea that we are blessed to be a blessing. This covenant is a reminder of God's faithfulness and His desire to use His people as channels of blessing to others. It encourages believers to live generously, knowing that God's promises are sure.

- Reflect on how you can be a blessing to others.
- Trust in God's covenant promises as you give.
- Pray for opportunities to bless others through your resources.

Scripture: Genesis 12:3 Psalm 89:34

4. The Rewards of Generosity — Proverbs teaches that a generous person will prosper, highlighting the benefits of giving with a willing and cheerful heart. Generosity is not just about financial giving but encompasses time, talents, and resources. A generous heart is open to God's leading and ready to share with others, resulting in spiritual and material abundance.

- Cultivate a heart of generosity in all areas of life.
- Look for ways to give cheerfully and willingly.
- Trust in God's promise of prosperity for the generous.

Scripture: Proverbs 11:24-25

Group Discussion

Tip: Use these questions to guide the group from seeing → understanding → applying.

Observation

- What was Abraham's response when God asked him to sacrifice Isaac?
- How did Abraham demonstrate his faith through tithing to Melchizedek?
- What does Proverbs say about the results of generosity?
- How does God's covenant with Abraham relate to his acts of giving?

Interpretation

- Why is tithing considered an important principle in the life of a believer?
- How does sacrificial giving demonstrate trust in God's promises?
- What does it mean to be blessed to be a blessing?

Interpretation (cont.)

- How can the principles of generosity in Proverbs be applied today?

Application

- In what ways can you practice sacrificial giving in your own life?
- How can you ensure your giving is motivated by love and willingness?
- What steps can you take to be a blessing to others through your resources?
- How can you cultivate a heart of generosity in your daily life?

Prayer Focus

- Pray for a heart that honors God with resources and acknowledges Him as the source of all blessings.
- Ask for guidance in practicing sacrificial giving and trusting God with the outcomes.
- Seek opportunities to be a blessing to others through generous acts.

Next Step

Reflect on how you can incorporate the principles of sacrificial giving and tithing into your daily life, trusting in God's covenant promises.

Conclusion

Abraham's life is a testament to the power of sacrificial giving and the blessings that follow. His acts of faith, from tithing to Melchizedek to the sacrifice of Isaac, provide timeless principles for believers. By embracing these principles, we open ourselves to God's abundant blessings and become channels of His grace to others.