

RCCG OCEANIA

Stewardship

Kingdom Management and Tithing

At a Glance

BIG IDEA

In the kingdom of God, management is not just a skill but a divine mandate. From the beginning, God emphasized the importance of management by withholding growth until a manager was present. Tithing serves as a divine training program, instilling accountability and discipline. Understanding and applying God's management principles can lead to abundant blessings and opportunities.

PRIMARY PASSAGES

Genesis 2:4

Proverbs 13:22

Luke 12:15

Mark 7:22

Key Takeaways

- Management is the principal key of kingdom life.
- God will not allow growth where there is bad management.
- Tithing is a divine management training program.
- Effective management attracts more resources and opportunities.
- Greed and mismanagement lead to personal and communal downfall.

Introduction

In the kingdom of God, management is a foundational principle that affects growth and resource allocation. From the beginning, God has shown that effective management is essential for the flourishing of His creation. Tithing is a tool used by God to teach His people the principles of management, accountability, and discipline.

Scripture Reading

- Genesis 2:4 — Highlights the necessity of management before growth.
- Proverbs 13:22 — Emphasizes the importance of leaving a legacy through good management.
- Luke 12:15 — Warns against greed, which can lead to mismanagement.
- Mark 7:22 — Lists greed as a destructive force, emphasizing the need for disciplined management.

Key Points

1. The Principle of Management — Management is the most important principle in the kingdom, as it determines the growth and sustainability of resources. Without good management, God ...

Key Points (cont.)

1. The Principle of Management (cont.) — withholds growth. This principle is evident from the beginning of creation, where God did not allow growth until a manager was present to tend to it.

- Evaluate areas in your life where management can be improved.
- Seek wisdom and guidance in managing resources effectively.
- Implement a plan for sustainable growth in personal and communal resources.

Scripture: Genesis 2:4

2. Tithing as Management Training — Tithing is designed to develop accountability, discipline, and trustworthiness, preparing individuals for greater responsibilities. It is a practical way to learn how to manage resources and prioritize God's kingdom in financial matters.

- Commit to regular tithing as a practice of discipline.
- Reflect on how tithing impacts your financial management skills.
- Encourage others to view tithing as a form of management training.

Scripture: Proverbs 13:22

Key Points (cont.)

- 3. Guard Against Greed — Greed leads to mismanagement and personal downfall. Jesus warns against all forms of greed, highlighting the need for careful resource management. Greed can blind individuals to the needs of others and the principles of stewardship.
- Identify areas where greed might be influencing your decisions.
 - Practice generosity as a countermeasure to greed.
 - Focus on stewardship and the well-being of others in resource management.

Scripture: Luke 12:15 Mark 7:22

Key Points (cont.)

4. God's Management Strategy — Recognize the need for management, develop skills, apply them to resources, and ensure accountability. This strategy leads to growth and blessings. By aligning with God's management principles, individuals can experience increased opportunities and resources.

- Develop a personal management strategy based on biblical principles.
- Regularly assess and adjust management practices for effectiveness.
- Share insights and strategies with others to promote communal growth.

Scripture: Genesis 2:4 Proverbs 13:22

Group Discussion

Tip: Use these questions to guide the group from seeing → understanding → applying.

Observation

- What does Genesis 2:4 reveal about the importance of management?
- How does Proverbs 13:22 relate to leaving a legacy through management?
- What warnings does Jesus give about greed in Luke 12:15?
- How is greed described in Mark 7:22?

Interpretation

- Why is management considered a divine mandate in the kingdom of God?
- In what ways does tithing serve as a management training program?
- How can greed lead to mismanagement and personal downfall?
- What are the components of God's management strategy?

Application

- How can you improve management in your personal life?
- What steps can you take to incorporate tithing as a management tool?
- In what ways can you guard against greed in your resource management?
- How can you apply God's management strategy to your current responsibilities?

Prayer Focus

- Pray for wisdom in managing resources effectively according to God's principles.
- Ask for a heart of generosity to counteract greed and promote stewardship.
- Seek guidance in using tithing as a tool for developing discipline and accountability.

Next Step

Reflect on your current management practices and implement biblical principles to enhance growth and stewardship.

Conclusion

Effective management is a cornerstone of kingdom living, impacting both personal and communal growth. By embracing God's principles of management and utilizing tools like tithing, believers can experience abundant blessings and opportunities. Guarding against greed and practicing disciplined stewardship are essential for sustaining growth and leaving a lasting legacy.